

IBP Group update on CE / UKCA marking for Conex Bänninger Products.

Date of issue – 24th November 2021

The EU Construction Products Regulation (CPR) comes into force from 1 July 2013 replacing the previous Construction Products Directive (CPD). From this date, manufacturers of all construction products that are covered by a Harmonised European Norm (hEN's) are required to apply CE (Conformite Européene) Marking to their products and provide a Declaration of Performance (DoP) stating their performance characteristics.

Currently for the IBP Group Conex Bänninger branded products produced according to EN1254 and other relevant standards there are no harmonised European Norms available. Therefore, we are not required to apply CE/ UKCA marking on our products.

We would like to state that following the Brexit and issue of the new UKCA implementation guidance document (November 2021) by the UK government there are currently no Conex Bänninger branded CE marked products requiring the new UKCA marking.

IBP group will provide regular updates in line with any further developments in the CE/ UKCA marking status of its products.
